RED MEN SHOWER GIFTS

Ladies and Gentlemen of Order Had Christmas Tree For Little Ones.

The Order of Red Men gathered in their hall last Saturday night and played host to all the children of their members; giving them a Christmas tree and a jolly good time. About sixty-five children were there to make merry and to receive the gifts and candy from the big hearted fraternal order. John Noller was Santa Claus.

A wonderful tree lit with varicolored candles and gleaming with tinsel was the center of attraction. After the distribution of the presents, there were refreshments for all and a general good time.

Next month there will be a big installation and banquet at Union Hall with grand officers and other notables in attendance.

SONOMA NEEDY ARE HELPED

New Kind of Christmas Cheer Result of Commission Created by Supervisors Last August.

Through the efforts, and interest of the Sonoma County Social Service Commission, now a duly constituted authority for the alleviation of distress among the needy, Christmas cheer brightened several homes in Sonoma Valley this year which otherwise might have been anything but bright during the holidays. Mrs. L. H. Green, local member of the Commission, received the customary help from the county and aid from the Red Cross to enable her to bring cheer into deserving homes which misfortune seemed destined to make sad and dreary on Christmas day. When it became known that the commissioner was active in this direction many private subscriptions and donations were proffered with the result that much good work was done.

The work is carried on quietly and without any information as to just who is being helped. The worthy are assisted without any semblance of charity. Sonoma county makes provision for needy cases and aims to help those who have been unfortunate to get on their feet again. In cases of hopeless sickness, conditions are made as comfortable and cheerful as possible and dependent children are sympathetically cared for.

J. Stenquist has departed for Florida with his division of the army. Lieutenant W. Shofner, U. S. N., and Ensign L. Volquardsen both sent home Christmas greetings from the Atlantic coast to their parents in Sonoma Valley.

County Clerk Felt will be in Sonoma tonight between 6 and 7 o'clock to issue blasting licenses.

EL VERANO SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT

Very Creditable Program Presented By Bright Pupils Last Friday Night.

The hall at El Verano Villa was crowded with patrons and friends of the El Verano school last Friday night when the pupils of that district presented a very entertaining Christmas program for the benefit of the piano fund.

Little girls in pretty dresses and wonderful bows sang and recited to the enjoyment of all present. While the boys also distinguished themselves in dialogue and musical numbers. Some of the little plays were exceedingly clever and very funny. Harry Burmeister in the railroad sketch wore a comical female costume and created lots of laughter through his acting the part of the frustrated woman traveler wanting to go to Mauro.

A pretty Red Cross booth with Mrs. Art Gale attractively costumed as a Red Cross nurse showed that El Verano district was doing its bit in the great drive for membership.

Between the program numbers, the Bradley Music company's Pathophone with Tetrazini and other good records was a feature. The music company loaned the Pathophone for the occasion.

In all $30.10 was cleared at the entertainment. The program in full was as follows:

PLOVER'S TALK AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Fine Address and Other Program Features Mark December Social Meeting.

The December meeting of the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club was a fitting culmination of a year's calendar which has been marked by many fine social meetings and many important business sessions.

The pretty club house was gay in its holiday decorations and the club color, red, was carried out in the Christmas red berries, scarlet geraniums and graceful ferns prettily arranged by the artistic hands of Mrs. Emparan. A cheery fire blazed its welcome on the hearth and altogether the rooms were most attractive.

The program was both interesting, entertaining and instructive. Mr. R. Q. Wickham of Eldridge, gave a very witty and bright talk, venturing some original philosophy and reciting in his usual pleasing manner several verses which he has written. Mr. Wickham was heartily applauded at the conclusion of his recital of lines from his clever pen.

Adam's beautiful Christmas hymn, "Noel," was rendered by Mrs. Emparan, after which County Probation Officer, John P. Plover, was introduced.

He was given a hearty welcome for his splendid work among unfortunate and dependents is well known to our club women. Mr. Plover, however, sought particularly to impress upon his hearers the scope of work now being done by Sonoma county, its Juvenile Court and Social Service Commission and to outline for the benefit of our taxpayers how money is spent toward the alleviation of misfortune and poverty. His talk was most enlightening and his facts and figures brought home to his listeners the great good being done. Since the personnel of the Juvenile Court and Social Service Commission includes the names of two prominent Sonoma Valley women, Mrs. R. P. Hill and Mrs. L. H. Green, a detailed account of the work they are engaged in was of special interest. It was reassuring to know that Sonoma county's gift to dependents and the manner in which it is administered bears good fruit. The percentage of individuals reclaimed and restored from indigence to an independent place in society ranks high in comparison with other counties in the state.

On June first there were receiving cash aid from the county 149 cases, representing 311 persons, half of whom are children. Fifty families in Sonoma county received state aid for half orphans. The county investigator, a woman who is paid $50 per month for this important work, passes upon applicants for aid together with the Social Service Commission lately created.

In reporting Sonoma county's work along these lines a special surveyor for the State Board of Charities and Corrections has commended many features of our plan in dealing with county charges. Some recommendation of great importance are urged—the tuberculosis ward for our county hospital, a visiting nurse, and the creation of the County Social Service Commission which has since been created by Ordinance No. 105 passed last August by the Board of Supervisors. Mr. Plover spoke highly of the good already done by this Commission of seven members, one of whom is Mrs. Green of this place. They work in conjunction with the Probation Officer and County Physician while directing the County Investigator. A report is rendered monthly to the Supervisors of the County. An excellent phase of the work is the effort made to get at the cause of delinquency or underlying problems involved.

"The expenditures of Sonoma county for the fiscal year ending to June, 1917, under the heading of Charities and Corrections, were as follows: County Hospital, salaries, maintenance and improvements $36,032.80 Outside indigents, cash, supplies, transportation, etc. 22,383.62 Examination and care of the insane 355.40 Care of the feeble-minded (Sonoma State Home) 7,170.50 Care of children; investigation of indigents 612.40 Probation Office 3,265.61 Detention Home 3,242.62 State Reform School 752.02 Other children's institutions 2,049.40 Private boarding homes 239.63 Support of orphans and half orphans 10,822.25

$23,509.25 Less refund from state, $10,156.99

Net county expenditure, $80,406.11 It was pointed out that illness, poverty and delinquency are closely related in their origin and growth and therefore a closer working union with

FETTERS MASK BALL TONIGHT

Theatre Is To Have Regular Vaudeville Features Coming Year.

The grand carnival and mask ball will be held at Fettes Theatre tonight and the management has left nothing undone that will go to make it a most enjoyable affair.

A beautiful Christmas tree and other suitable decorations has transformed the hall into a veritable bower of holiday "class" and special jazz music will be featured.

During the coming year vaudeville will be given every night at the theatre, Mrs. Fettes having leased the privilege to a circuit. She will continue to conduct the dances which will as always be the popular attraction at the big resort. The vaudeville will commence this week.

Mrs. R. B. Thomas has returned from Canada where she visited her mother, one of the grand old ladies of the Dominion.

resources for health, relief and correction is necessary. The local Social Service Commission makes a full study of local cases and their history. She presents it intelligently to the Commission as a whole. While the detention home is aimed to be that a home can imply, great effort is made and many children are actually placed and supported in private families. Says the state investigator of the policy of Sonoma County's Probation Committee:

"The policy pursued by Sonoma county in placing its dependent children in family homes, where possible, instead of institutions is an outstanding feature of the probation work which has been very favorably quoted all over the state. The personality of the probation officers and of the members of the Probation Committee do credit to the county. In each ward of the court, the careful planning for its physical, mental and moral welfare and the faithful way in which each child is followed up and kept in touch with the home county,—these are evidences that the committee and officers take more than a perfunctory interest in their work."

While Mr. Plover simply touched on salient points of the great work, he aroused much interest in the important subject and was roundly applauded as he closed his talk with the cheering stanzas of "The House By the Side of the Road."

Miss Emily Poppe, director of music at the High school, then presented a number of her pupils in part singing, their voices blending most beautifully, reflecting excellent art training, harmonizing and artistic understanding.

Mrs. S. Erasmus, prominent Red Cross worker and wife of a retired soldier, gave a most absorbing and bright talk on Christmas at an Alaska army post and urged that the loneliness of the enlisted men be ever in the minds of those at home and that all be generous with their letter writing.

The closing number on the program was furnished by pretty Miss Virginia Pommeroy of Santa Rosa and Miss Janie Wheeler, a talented young singer from Petaluma. Miss Wheeler has a voice of rare sweetness and clarity. Her first song, a classic, was followed by "The Blue Bird," to which Miss Pommeroy danced most gracefully. It was a charming and effectively interpreted number.

At the conclusion of the splendid program, coffee and biscuits prepared from barley flour were served by Mrs. L. S. Simmons, the hostess, and there was a round of social conversation with an exchange of compliments on the success of the afternoon.

REGISTRANTS ARE BUSY HERE

Filling Out of Questionnaires Occupies Attention of Sonoma's Young Men.

The attorneys in Sonoma appointed to take care of the registrants, answering the questionnaires which have reached so many of our young men, have been besieged with callers all week eager to fill in the necessary information demanded on the blanks of prospective soldiers.

The questions are far reaching and should enable the war department to index and classify each man with considerable exactness.

The affidavit which each individual of military age must swear to opens with a general question as to name, occupation, military experience, education and the designation of the calling in which registrant believes himself to be most expert. Other questions have to do with the holding of office, religious convictions, military or naval service, history of citizenship, fitness for pilots or marines, sect scruples against war, dependency claim, industrial occupation, physical fitness, etc.

If a man is married he must state fully the length of time he has been married, condition of his wife's health, what if any were her means of livelihood before marriage, how much wages she commanded, her age, etc.

RED CROSS LETTERS FROM SOLDIERS

San Pedro, Dec. 23, 1917.

Sonoma Red Cross:— Your gift received which I was more than pleased to receive. I can hardly start to express my appreciation of this token in writing. So I again thank you.

Wishing you all a very Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year. OLIVER MAFFEE

New York, N. Y. Dec. 18, 1917

The Sonoma Red Cross, Dear Friends:— I received the package you sent me and can hardly explain how glad I was to get something from all the friends and people in Sonoma.

It sure makes a sailor happy to get anything from people and friends when he is so far from home with no chance of getting home.

I would like to tell you folks how things look on the other side (France) but as we are not allowed, it cannot be done.

Any one that has ever been there will never want to go again as long as the war lasts. I have longed to be home a good many times but there is no chance. We would like to get a few letters now and then from Sonoma besides those from our own parents, it will help to cheer us up a little more. The snow is two feet deep here in New York and the Hudson river is frozen so it is pretty cold here — Give me California.

Will close, thanking everyone from the bottom of my heart for thinking of my brother and myself and hoping to hear from the Sonoma people a little more, I remain, Yours truly, RALPH L. STILLINGS

SAILOR BOY HOME FOR CHRISTMAS

Will Perry, looking natty in his sailor's uniform, was home for Christmas from a San Pedro training ship. He is keener than ever for Uncle Sam's navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Monahan were the guests of city relatives for Christmas.

GRADUATES WITH HONORS IN FRANCE

Frederick Duhring Stands Highest In Class With Americans and French Officers.

Frederick Duhring, Jr., graduate of U. C., who left Allentown, Pa., with the Ambulance Corps for France some months ago, has been attending L'Ecole des Eleveur Officer's Reserve (Convois Autos) and graduated just before Thanksgiving with 50 Americans and 90 French officers. He was highest in the class. This school instructs the young military men in the intricate workings and handling of army autos and machines of every type. Young Duhring is in line for the commission of Second Lieutenant, which he has probably received by this time.

Mrs. F. T. Duhring, in a recent letter from Frederick, heard of a delightful trip taken by the young man to Paris, for after the examinations he was given a week's furlough. Under date of Dec. 2nd he wrote as follows:

"With two others who completed the course with me, I am staying here at the Grand Hotel. Sightseeing has gotten to my brain. I never imagined such a beautiful city as Paris. It is quite as beautiful as was our Exposition. The vast amount of time, labor and money spent in gaining 'art for art's sake,' is what impresses me most. But the result is surely worthy.

"Last evening we saw Henry VIII at the opera house, and this morning took in a service at the beautiful Madeleine. These big churches are wonderfully impressive. We have also seen Notre Dame, Sainte Chapelle, Hotel des Invalids and Neapolian's tomb, Eiffel Tower, Bois de Boulogne, and other gems of churches about the city.

"I hope you all have a very Merry Christmas. I wish I could be there. But we had turkey for Thanksgiving."

The letter reached Mrs. Duhring Christmas morning and she was glad to know of her son's advancement and that he felt that turkey was some compensation for being so far away during the holidays.

Mrs. James Tate was shopping in San Francisco last Friday.

The Will Cleve family were guests of Mrs. Cleve's relatives in Alameda county over the holiday.

Mrs. Martha Starns has entirely recovered the use of her arm, recently broken. Although 80 years of age, Mrs. Starns is enjoying excellent health. She believes that even broken arms can knit in war times.

The benefit mask ball for the Homeless Children Fund will be given under the auspices of the Native Sons New Year's Eve. The attendance and number of maskers is predicted as large. Attractive prizes and the worthy cause are interesting both dancers and spectators.

Glen Ellen's Woman's Improvement Club will give its Soldiers' Fund benefit mask ball Monday evening at the Panerazi Auditorium. A fine jazz band has been engaged for this dance and many dancers will be in costume.

A REAL STORY FOR CHILDREN

Christmas Not Slow For One Little El Verano Boy.

Vernett Ryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ryan, and nephew of Joe Ryan of this place, is only four years old but he has an innate love for horses and inherits the true sporting blood of the Ryans, who have always been keen for racing and the clatter of thoroughbred hoofs coming down the home stretch. Vernet hears plenty of horse talk when he is around his dad and Uncle Joe (at least he did until the latter began to be an authority on military affairs). As soon as he was big enough to ask for a present, he said he wanted a Shetland pony. That was last year and lo and behold shortly afterwards the diminutive Shetland, anxious to please his little master, produced a wonderful little colt no bigger than a dog, a really and true baby Shetland. Vernet was delighted but he has been "champing on the bit" for a long time to see the little horse hitched up. "Let's break him," has been his suggestion every day. He was advised to wait until the pet was a little older, but he became impatient, so on Christmas day when he received a fine little red wagon with a pole, he conceived the idea of hitching up the pony and his pet dog and making a team of them.

Very quietly he went about the task of hitching up the odd pair and as both baby Shetland and "friend" dog were devoted to their little master, they made no serious objection to what he was doing to them. Vernet got a rope around the pony's nose and another one around its belly, tying the latter rope to the wagon very securely. On the other side of the pole he fixed the dog and attached him to the outfit as best he could. All might have worked well, but when Vernet heaved "get up," the dog, wagon and much of the rope parted company, leaving the wagon bumping the confused baby Shetland most peculiarly in the rear. The thoroughly frightened colt dashed away, out of the yard and down to the railroad track with his little master wildly in pursuit.

The anxious mother and the neighbors finally rounded up the runaway and released the pony. There was a completely demolished wagon, a sadder but wiser little boy and a thoroughly repentant Shetland colt which followed him out to the corral to its dignified mother who whinnied reprovingly at her offspring.

Vernet says broncho busting is not what it is cracked up to be or else horse sense does not apply to little horses like Shetland ponies.

WILL RETURN AND OPEN GARAGE

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Garry Bertoli will be pleased to hear that they are to return from Suissun and that Mr. Bertoli will open the garage in the Duhring block. It is to be known as "Garry's Garage." The young people are both popular and as Mr. Bertoli is a good mechanic he will no doubt get much patronage. They are to make their home at the Evans cottage on Broadway.

Looking Forward To 1918

Looking forward to the new year 1918, there is one wish and hope springs exultant to the hearts of each and everyone of us—the achievement of peace with honor and the return of the flower of our youth to homes now waiting expectantly for what the new year will bring forth. There is no question but that this is the note that will be sounded in the newspapers throughout this land and some will most beautifully and ornately express the thoughts that are within the hearts of us all.

The material outlook for 1918 is one of wondrous prosperity, particularly for California, land of sunshine and plenty, whose rich soil never before intensively cultivated, is now teeming with new possibilities under the call for increased crops to help feed the world and its stricken people. Who harkens to this call and pursues it patriotically and intelligently during 1918 and will be as truly a good soldier as the young American in the trenches. "Bread, beef and beans," will win the war as well as bullets.

What is being demanded of every American at this time it is practicable for every American to do and to be, no matter how humble or how seeming of little import heretofore. Magnificent discipline is being meted out to each and everyone of us. We are going to a school very dear in experience, but whose educational value to the average American is beyond any attempt at estimate. So will our spirits be greatly enriched during the new year and it is incumbent upon us to see that our fellows are attuned to the rich resonant note sounding throughout a land once thought cold and commercial, self-seeking and provincial.

You who have sons dear as your own life in this war, will be most sensitive to the faintest ripple of disloyalty. You will be first to note the shadow of anarchy lurking about. It must be crushed to earth ere it raises its head. It must be throttled ere it gains a semblance of its hideousness. One of the greatest and most sacred trusts to those who are at home is to be active in this regard during the coming year. All that the United States stands for, all that she has aimed to be for the freedom loving peoples of the world is now being put to the test.

The conduct of the war, the progress and success depends as much upon small communities like Sonoma as upon the larger cities. "As the unit so the aggregate," is an old and true axiom. Let us therefore do our level best during 1918, to do the work that is expected of us and carry out America's aims as pointed out by President Wilson.

Let us all show every kindness and consideration for the families where there is a vacant chair, making as cheerful and pleasant their hours as possible. Think not only of the boys gone to war, but of the families whose hearts are lonely because of them and make it your business as a fellow townsman to be an aid and comfort to them as the days of '18 go by.

Yes, there is plenty of work for 1918. Stupendous noble work for us all in a quiet simple way as well as in the more signal service for which some will be conscripted.

Anarchists and Preachers Are Rebuked

It is interesting to record the fact that almost every exchange on our desk waxes more or less eloquent over the Fickert victory in San Francisco, where the recall has become a nuisance and a weapon nicely suited to the hands of a lot of dangerous loafers. Here is what Editor Sam Merk of the Burlingame Advocate has to say about the cause the Bulletin so blatantly championed:

"The election of Tuesday in San Francisco is not a victory so much for Attorney Fickert as it is a rebuke to those who are extending aid and sympathy to anarchists. It was the dastardly crime of the preparedness day parade and nothing else that caused the recall election. Various reasons have been presented but that one fact stands out that it was the vigorous prosecution of those accused of the crime that brought the recall election. It was a pity that a number of the ministers of San Francisco could not have seen of the question at issue and exert their influence accordingly, biding their time when they could throw their influence into the campaign for what they believe to be the issue. If Fickert's action on the red light question did not suit the ministers, they could well have afforded to await the time when issues involving the nation were not at stake. The preparedness parade was but a forerunner to getting ready for the war the nation is now engaged in and the crime was as much against the government, and therefore anarchy, as if the bomb had landed in the midst of a group of soldiers in uniform. The associates of the accused are some of them now government prisoners for continuing a propaganda of opposition to the government's war efforts. But laying aside an analysis of the crime and there still remains a duty of the district attorney to vigorously prosecute those charged with crime, and he should not be recalled for doing his duty. It is not even necessary to go into the various angles the prosecution and defense have followed to lay a foundation for the right and duty of the attorney to prosecute. The persons at the bar of justice have had most able defense—a defense that is quite capable of laying bare any so-called frame-up the prosecution could have invented. The recall is the latest act in a series of attempts to harass and prevent the law's course."

The Horse In War

The faithful and efficient dumb brute is being looked after by American war workers too and one of California's wealthy and active women, Mrs. Anita Baldwin of Arcadia, is aiding this commendable cause:

A recent Red Star bulletin says:

Prevents Horse Wastage

"One of the first duties of the Red Star is to humanely prevent horse wastage and conserve our very limited supplies of suitable animals. We are told by military experts in France that the number of animals killed or injured, and not due to natural causes, in the last two years on the western frontier, has amounted to nearly 47,000 horses and mules, a month. At the end of the first drive at Verdun, in eight hours there was a wastage of 5,011 horses on a three mile front. Every eight miles along the battle front in France there is a horse hospital. Among the horses in these hospitals approximately 27 per cent are there for sickness and about 72 per cent because of injuries. It is recently reported that since the war began there has been shipped from the United States to France and England about 1,500,000 horses and mules, and that there has been expended for them about $375,000,000. It is the purpose of the American Red Star animal-relief to reduce this wastage among the United States horses to the smallest possible minimum and save these unfortunate animals all the suffering that it can. Our supply of satisfactory horses is already very limited and it will take four years for a fresh supply to grow up and mature. Horses are an absolute necessity for army movements.

"Careful official study has shown that the best way to assist our government to prevent horse wastage and thereby increase the efficiency of the army and national defense, is to help to secure better protection for the animals that they are healthy by means of shelter tents, more efficient service and by expert Red Star care."

PLEASANT CHRISTMAS PARTY AT CARTER HOME

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Carter and family entertained a number of friends and former neighbors at a jolly Christmas party on Tuesday. A beautiful tree, trimmed to perfection, was the cynosure of all eyes, particularly the little ones and Santa Claus, wonderfully bewhiskered and appareled, made his appearance after the jingling of familiar sleigh bells and stealthy approach through the door. He distributed gifts and greeted the children much to the delight of old as well as young. After the presents were given out there was an elaborate dinner, which all enjoyed thoroughly.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Power and family were among those who enjoyed the hospitality of the Carter family.

HOUSEWIVES' HANDY LIST OF SUBSTITUTES

San Francisco, Dec. 28.—Our European allies will need more food from America during the coming year than in 1917, according to a report issued today by the United States Food Administration for California. As the weeks go by, America will be called upon more and more to share her supplies with France, England, Italy and Belgium, whose civilian populations and armies depend for nourishment to a large extent on the food saved in the American household. This surplus can be created only through decreased consumption of meats, sugar, fats and wheat products and substitution thereof of foods which cannot be shipped so well.

In the rush of preparing meals the housewife finds it difficult sometimes to think of the substitute needed. Herewith is a small, comprehensive list prepared by the Food Administration and designed to hang in the kitchen cabinet or on the wall to be used for ready reference:

Meat Substitutes
Poultry	Bear soup
Rabbit	Bean loaf
Fish	Nut loaf
Eggs	Milk soup
Cheese dishes	Chowders
Baked Beans	Milk
Wheat Bread Substitutes
Brown bread	Potato biscuit
Corn Bread	Rye bread
Oatcakes	Potatoes
Buckwheat cakes	Rice
Hominy	German bread

LOCAL VIGILANCE CORPS URGED TO FERRET OUT ENEMIES

New York, Dec. 26, 1917.
Editor Index-Tribune, Sonoma.

My Dear Sir:—The American Defense Society is devoting its entire organization and resources to the immediate detection and sequestration of all disloyal Americans, pacifists and pro-Germans. In this country there are several million aliens representing Germany, Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey, every one of whom is a possible enemy. Unofficial announcement has already been made at Washington that the government is about to register the alien enemies of America.

In this connection, we have sent to the Mayor of your city a plan for organizing a Vigilance Corps whose duty it shall be to co-operate with the government in running down every person suspected of disloyalty, and of collecting as much information as possible to place at the disposal of the government as soon as it shall be called for.

This is a time for patriotic co-operation. We ask you, therefore, to get in touch with the Mayor and to aid in the formation of a committee which shall command universal respect and may properly undertake the formation of a Vigilance Corps, which will be at once a credit to your city, and a useful and efficient working body for principles of liberty and freedom.

Kindly let me know if we may depend upon you for assistance.
Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM TERTERLY,
Field Secretary.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS WILL HAVE GALA AFFAIR

One of the largest fraternal affairs after the first of the year will be the visit of the Grand Officers to Sonoma Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West. The grand president was to have come last month, but upon the date selected had to preside over a big benefit at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, where the Native Daughters gave a brilliant fete for the benefit of the equipment of the army base hospital in which they are interested. The date of Sonoma's affair was therefore changed and it is now planned to entertain many visiting members from San Rafael, Santa Rosa, Napa and other towns. It will be a brilliant occasion and will conclude with a banquet.

Mrs. Thos. Spaulding (nee Biolletti) and little daughter, returned to Kenwood Wednesday, after spending the holidays with relatives in Berkeley.

Mrs. Frank Groskopf came up Christmas Eve to visit her folks. Sergeant Griskopf was unable to leave Camp Lewis on account of quarantine for measles and spinal meningitis. The Breitenbach and Groskopf families, however, sent him much Christmas cheer.

CHRISTMAS AT ST. FRANCIS CHURCH

St. Francis church ushered in Christmas morning with early Mass and the Feast of the Nativity was celebrated with the usual impressive ceremonial. The altars were beautifully decorated with red berries, evergreens and dozens of handsome red carnations, the annual gift of one of the parishoners, Mrs. M. Mosso. Devout worshippers thronged the church and Mass was celebrated by Rev. T. P. Moran, assisted by an augmented choir. The singing was exceptionally good.

At 11 o'clock there was also a record attendance and following this later Mass, Father Moran preached an inspiring and beautiful sermon on the birth of Christ and its significance to the world.

Lieutenant Ringressy visited his family at Fetters Sunday. Mr. Ringressy's partner, Bobbie Rowe, has gone to Seattle, where he is a hockey star with the Metropolitan team.

CHILDREN ENJOY TREES AT CHURCHES

The children of the various Sunday schools had Christmas trees and exercises at the local churches, even the Episcopal church which has not been holding regular services, participating in the general celebration of the time honored holiday.

At the Methodist church there was a large gathering on Christmas Eve and a tree with beautiful ornaments and book gifts for the little ones. The singing was joined in with great fervor and there were pictures illustrative of the morn of the Nativity. Henry Waltz, Jr., rendered a fine vocal number.

At the Congregational church there were appropriate exercises at the regular Sunday school hour Sunday morning. The program numbers were timely and the little ones were generously remembered from the branches of an attractive Christmas tree. Mrs. Carter directed the exercises.

Trinity church was the scene of impressive Christmas services Saturday. The children and their elders went through the regular ritual and the pretty chapel was bright with red berries and evergreens. Here too, the Christmas tree was a great attraction and the Sunday school class of Mrs. L. S. Simmons was well represented, while all were appropriately remembered.

DIES IN SAN FRANCISCO. KNOWN HERE

Constant Richert, husband of Catherine Richert and father of Mrs. Sontag and Mrs. Annette Larque, passed away in San Francisco on the 23rd instant. Mr. Richert was known here, having formerly resided at Vineburg, where the hospitable home was the center of much social life during the residence of the family in Sonoma Valley.

Mr. Richert was a native of Alsace, France, aged 75 years.

SHOWER PARTY FOR A BRIDE

Mrs. Ralph Evans, who was the popular Miss Josie Kennell before her marriage to the well known young telephone man, was given a shower by the Native Daughters last week at her home on Broadway. It was a Parisian ivory shower and the pretty bride found that the collection of the beautiful were started before her wedding day was completely filled out by the generous members of the order to which she belongs. In addition to the many lovely pieces for her dresser, Mrs. Evans received several dainty bits of embroidery and needlework.

There was a jolly social time, refreshments and music. The Native Daughters of Sonoma are most thoughtful and generous when their members get married and they have done the honors many times of late.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murphy were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Smith in San Francisco Christmas day.

Miss Antoinette Froment has been visiting relatives in the metropolis. Mrs. Deloche of San Francisco, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. A. Froment.

Miss Mary Springer will be the guest of friends at a party in San Francisco on New Year's.

The McGinsey family of Isleton, Sacramento county, were here for the holidays.

Manager H. B. Sinclair of the Foster ranch reports that a twenty-six pound turkey, which was sent to the Reclamation ranch from the Foster ranch at Hopland, had been stolen. The bird was valued at $25. Mr. Sinclair suspected that one of the men employed on the place stole the turkey and the fellow finally confessed. As the man has a family, Mr. Sinclair did not prosecute him but discharged him. The investigation of the theft was made by Deputy Sheriff Rasmussen.

INCOME TAX MAN COMING TO SONOMA

The following letter which contains the important announcement of the Income Tax Man's coming to Sonoma, has been received by the local banks:

Office of Collector of Internal Revenue, First District of California
San Francisco, Cal.
December 18, 1917.

To Bankers—Gentlemen: I beg to advise you of certain plans in relation to the individual income tax which will relieve bankers from a large burden of work thrust upon them during the months of January and February, when income tax forms must be executed and sent to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

It is a fact well recognized by my office that very many taxpayers seek the assistance of bankers in making out their returns and that this practice is so general as to constitute a serious encroachment upon the banker's time. In January and February, 1918, when returns must be made of income received during the year 1917, and when because of the new and reduced exceptions of $1,000 for single persons and $2,000 for married persons, the number of taxpayers will be enormously increased, there will be immensely greater encroachment upon your time.

You will be pleased, therefore, to know that the plans referred to will relieve you from this burden in large part, at least.

It is the purpose of this office to send an income tax officer into your county or city, to assist all persons subject to the income tax law in making out their returns; to answer their questions about the law and to assist them in the measure of his ability. This officer will be at Sonoma, Cal., continuously from Jan. 16, 1918, to Jan. 18, 1918, both dates inclusive. He will have his office in City Hall and may be found there every day.

He will have an ample supply of income tax forms, rendering it unnecessary for taxpayers who shall call upon him to ask for forms from this office, or for you to ask for them in advance of his arrival. Inasmuch as his stay at Sonoma, Cal., will be limited to the dates specified and will not be returned to your county (or city) again, it is of the utmost importance that all prospective taxpayers take advantage of his presence there by calling upon him on one of the dates suggested, the earlier the date the better.

May I not, therefore, suggest to you the wisdom and necessity as protection of yourself, if not as a patriotic service, of communicating by letter, telephone or otherwise with so many of your depositors as you believe to have taxable incomes, advising them of the date when a government income tax officer will be there and suggesting the advisability of calling upon him, and instruct the employees at the bank's windows to impart this information to the depositors?

There is a common and erroneous impression that it is the government's duty to call upon the taxpayers. On the contrary, the taxpayer must call upon the government. If he fails to report his income when due he thereby subjects himself to penalties ranging from $20.00 to $1,000 fine, or imprisonment.

Respectfully,
JUSTUS S. WARDELL,
Collector.

WINE MAN OFF FOR NEW YORK

Sam Sebastiani Left Thursday For Annual Business Trip East.

Sam Sebastiani, manufacturer and shipper of Sonoma Valley wines, left on Thursday for his annual business trip to New York City. Mr. Sebastiani has big business connections in the metropolis of the Atlantic coast and his coming is eagerly looked forward to by some of the leading wine dealers there. He is also the recipient of much courtesy from the Southern Pacific over whose lines he travels and ships many carloads of choice vintage each season. Upon his arrival in New York, a Southern Pacific representative is put at his disposal and from him Mr. Sebastiani gets any information he desires. In addition to this he is the recipient of much attention from his business customers there. The year 1918 promises to be a banner one for California wines, providing nothing is done by legislative enactment to spoil the bright prospects for good prices. Mr. Sebastiani has an investment of several thousand dollars in his wine business here and the New York market has been a steadily growing one for several seasons past. Prior to his departure Mr. Sebastiani gave a pleasant party and a dinner to friends and relatives at his pretty home on Third street East. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. E. Eraldi, Mr. and Mrs. Garzoli, Dave Eraldi, M. Mangiante, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bertelotti and the Sebastiani family.

Young Men Are Wanted

An unlimited number of Bookkeepers and Stenographers, both male and female, are wanted by business houses and by the United States government.

Sweet's Santa Rosa Business College is known to be one of the very best commercial schools, not only on the Pacific Coast, but in the whole United States.

A prominent educator and publisher after visiting our different departments, said: "You have one of the best equipped schools I have ever visited, and your systems of work are up to date in every particular."

We occupy the entire building which we built for a business college. It has over one hundred and fifty lineal feet of elegant office fixtures. It has a splendid equipment of desks, typewriters, adding machines and office furniture.

Our faculty consists of teachers who have had years of experience in actual office work as well as special training for the positions they now hold. With a single exception they are all graduates of our own college.

We have not been able to supply graduates for one-half the positions offered during the past term. We want a hundred more bright young men and young women to begin with the new year.

The U. S. Government wants thousands of bookkeepers and stenographers. Entrance salary, $1100 and up, with certain promotion to those qualified. Entrance examinations very easy.

DEBATE WAS ALMOST TIE

Santa Rosa Proclaimed Winner In Argument For Compulsory Health Insurance.

The debate last Friday night between Santa Rosa High School and Sonoma High School went to the visiting team who took the affirmative side of the question. The decision was a very close one. The Sonoma debaters arguing against Compulsory Health Insurance were Stewart Potter, Lester Hawkins and Rodney Prestwood. The Santa Rosa team was composed of Carl Hoyt, Venel Weber, Messrs. Harold and McAlpine. Judge Vaughn of Santa Rosa, F. T. Duhring and Prof. Redding of U. C. were the judges.

Sonoma's team put up strong arguments and made such a formidable bid for the decision that it was with some difficulty that the judges finally conferred the honor on the visiting team.

Following the debate the Santa Rosans, including Prof. DeWitt Montgomery were entertained by Miss Jones and the Domestic Science students at the Jones home.

BURGLAR BREAKS INTO STORE AND HOTEL

Last Friday night the store of James McElney was entered by a burglar who cut a hole in the panel of the door and gained entrance.

Nothing in the cash register the thief left hurriedly without disturbing anything else. Jimmy marks on Bates' door showed that he tried to effect an entrance there also.

After leaving the south side of town, the determined robber went to the Swiss Hotel, cut out a pane of glass and got away with $40 worth of loot off the punch board. There are no clues to the thief.

IT IS NOW LIEUTENANT TRACIE

A telegram from Redding, Shasta county, states that Maurice Tracie, formerly a teacher of the Sonoma High school, has been commissioned a second lieutenant—a promotion from the ranks. Mr. Tracie enlisted some months ago in the artillery.

Moose Christmas Matinee

DELIGHTED CHILDREN

The fine pictures of fairland and a real Santa Claus provided by the Moose Social Club at the Don Theatre last Saturday, was gift worth while to the children. Candy was distributed and their little faces told plainer than words their enjoyment and gratitude.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar MacQuiddy and Mr. and Mrs. Will Dunn were entertained at the Dunn ranch over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. LaTorres spent Christmas with their son.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Rambo and family and Eddie Pohley were entertained Christmas by Mrs. Irene Rambo Seawell of Berkeley.

E. Vannucci, an uncle of Paul Vannucci the popular El Verano resident, died in San Francisco this week. He leaves two daughters to mourn the passing of a good father.

Mrs. Kate Buchan and grandson spent Christmas at Watsonville with Majorie Buchan Fiske and her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lawlor of Petaluma have decided to make their home with their daughter, Mrs. Drees, who recently lost her husband.

J. Milton McGinsey will remove from Isleton to Red Bluff on the first of the year. He will have charge of a large grocery business there.

The City Trustees met Thursday night and awarded the contract for laying the rest of the concrete walks in the Plaza to Wm. Trudgen, whose bid was 11 1/2 cents per square foot. Ray Cooper's many friends will be sorry to learn that he is in the hospital at Philadelphia with thirty other members of his unit, who are all down with scarlet fever.

VINEBURG

The only thing we can hear now is the coming mask ball of the Native Sons on New Year's Eve. Most all of the young set say they are going, but saying is one thing and going is another, but I hope they all will be there and help "the little tots."

Messrs. F. Flint, a well known stockman of Lake View, Oregon, and Earl H. Hackney, U. S. mail contractor of Oakland, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Vernon on Christmas.

Miss Myrtle Thomas is up from Santa Barbara on a visit to her father, R. B. Thomas and her many friends were glad to see "Little Sunshine," believe me.

Otto Dresel, at one time one of the crack basket ball players of the High school, but now one of Uncle Sam's brave laddies, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dresel, on Christmas day.

On Tuesday last the Gundlach Bundschu Wine Co. shipped a car load of choice wine to New Orleans. The car contained 175 barrels of wine, each barrel holding from 50 to 55 gallons, making this the largest single shipment that ever left the valley. Foreman Philip Bill, Sr., conducted the loading, and he sure knows his business.

Mr. August Figue and family of San Francisco, accompanied by Mr. G. Rezzacaro, were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Batto. Mr. Figue made the trip in his swell Willys-Knight.

James Thomas is at present the guest of his father, R. B. Thomas, having returned home to spend the holidays.

Mr. Oscar McQuiddy, formerly of Sonoma Valley but now a prominent citizen of Walnut Creek, was exchanging greetings with his many friends on Monday last. Mr. McQuiddy and family are the guests of the Dunn family, at their beautiful home near this place.

Vineburg enjoyed a Merry Christmas and the farmers were glad of the present that Divine Providence sent them, the much needed downfall of rain. They all look happy.

Vineburg was greatly surprised and also glad when it was made known that Rene Vernon had arrived to spend a Merry Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Vernon, before his call to duty. Rene was a well known fruit man in this vicinity with a host of friends, all who were glad to shake his hand again.

City Trustee Charles McDevitt and family were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Batto on Christmas. An elaborate dinner was served, the rooms handsomely decorated, and the little tots Christmas tree was a "dream."

St. Barbara's Guild meets Tuesday at Mrs. Fred Helberg's.

SOLDIERS VISIT MADE GLAD CHRISTMAS

The home-coming Sunday night of Sonoma soldier boys, among whom were Otto Dresel, R. Vernon, Ed Peterson and Phil Ziero, brought added Christmas joy to many Sonoma Valley homes.

When it became known that the boys who were on their way from Camp Kearny could not make connections with the trains so as to arrive Sunday, Mr. Dresel's automobile was sent from here to San Rafael to meet them. The boys all looked fine in their uniforms and all who talked with them declared they have a broader outlook and finer feeling of patriotism than when they enlisted.

Phil Ziero was entertained at the Baccala home during his holiday visit and enjoyed a splendid dinner at this hospitable home.

All the other boys have folks here with whom they passed two very happy days.

Ed Peterson has turned out to be a crack shot, ranking among the highest in his company. He is qualifying for a sharp shooter. Vernon is also a good shot and all the young soldiers say they are anxious to be on their way and get a chance at the enemy.

ALLEGED SLACKER IS ARRESTED

An athletic instructor at the State Home, Eldridge, whose name is Zabel, and whose birthplace is said to be Germany, was arrested at the institution this week by the federal authorities and charged with being a slacker. Zabel had no registration card but claimed to have registered some where. His story was listened to and he was taken to jail at Santa Rosa, pending further inquiry into his case.
